We're getting involved with

#GREENCAREERS WEEK

Green Careers Week

6th- 11th November 2023

Explore Springpod Virtual Experiences to find out more about exciting career pathways in the sustainability, ecological and green spaces.

Viasat Beyond: Space. Viasat invites you to enter a competition where you will explore what it takes to address sustainability in space, and, if successful, you could even pitch your idea to the professionals themselves.

Apply now

Airbus. How do space innovations and solutions help us here on Earth? This industry insight will help you understand how crucial the space industry is in tackling climate change.

Apply now

Fashion. Interested in a career in fashion? You can learn about sustainable fashion as part of our programme that explores the exciting world of fashion.

Get started

Civil Engineers: Shaping the World. Explore how civil engineers are driving sustainable approaches to building a brighter, greener future for all of us.

Get started

Siemens Energy. Learn all about why being sustainable is important to Siemens Energy.

Get started

Green Careers Week

6th-11th November 2023

Thames Water Work Experience. Thames Water stands at the cutting edge of technology. Discover how they are working hard to play their part in achieving the UN's 17 sustainable development goals.

Get started

Discover Net Zero Careers. Based in London and keen to learn more about net zero careers? Explore core areas such as retrofitting, low-carbon heat and energy, green infrastructure and more.

Get started

Your City, Your Future. Careers at Brighton & Hove City Council. If you live in Brighton and Sussex, you could spend part of this experience learning about careers in local politics and sustainability.

Get started

Sustainability, Support and STEM with Severn Trent. Based in Gloucestershire, the Midlands and Wales and interested in sustainability? We'll show you how Severn Trent are working hard to play their part in achieving the UN's 17 sustainable development goals.

Get started

University Spotlights

Architecture: The Blueprints of Civilisation. Architects must always consider the environmental impact of their work. Complete this subject spotlight to find out more.

Get started

Why are some countries poor? Find out more about how the study of Economics is vital to address global inequality with this fascinating subject spotlight.

Get started

Climate change: Using the past to predict the future. Discover how paleo-ecologists are using evidence from the past to try to tackle the threat of climate change.

Get started

Climate change: Causes, consequences and solutions. Learn why geographers are key to understanding and solving the complex issues around the climate crisis.

Get started

Marine life: Battling zombie parasites and pollution. Understand the innovative ways that marine biologists are working to understand and restore damaged marine environments.

Get started

Society & Environment: What are the ethical responsibilities of a business? Explore how and why businesses promote environmental, social and economic sustainability.

Get started

